Attendance: Since this is an online class, class participation is given when you participate in discussion questions/topics throughout the quarter. If you are absent, it is your responsibility to contact a classmate to find out what you missed and to get homework assignments or check with the week's module for recording of the lesson.

If you decide to withdraw from the course, please let me know AND drop the course, so you do not get a failing grade.

Academic Integrity: You must do your own work! The goal of this class is to build your writing skills so you can become a better writer. Do NOT:

- Use any AI technology, e.g. ChatGPT, Google Translate, Grammarly, etc.
- Copy from another student's homework, quiz, exam or any other material.
- Have someone else do your assignment and submit it as your own.
- Submit homework or essays that you've done for another class.
- Get too much "help" from someone on an assignment where the work no longer looks like your own.
- Copy any amount of material from a published source (e.g. the Internet, books, magazines) without citing the source.

Any student caught cheating or plagiarizing may receive an automatic 0 for the assignment and may be dropped from the course and/or reported to the Office of Student Development. Students who help someone else cheat in any way may also receive an automatic 0 and be reported. If reported, the incident may remain as part of your permanent college record. Go to De Anza College's Academic Integrity for more information.

Online Classroom Environment: Please be kind and respectful to everyone! Let's help each other learn in a fun and positive way!

Office Hours: Most successful students see their teachers outside their class to ask questions or get extra help on their assignments. I strongly encourage you to visit me during my Zoom office hours. If you're having any difficulty, come see me early in the quarter.
